IMPROVEMENTS PENDING.

P. Burns is making preparations for brushing and draining 8,000 acres of the bog lands which he purchased some time since. The foreman is now on the works with a whole outfit of tools ready for the undertaking. A large ditch is to be run through the property as well as smaller ditches after which the property will be seeded down for pastoral purposes. The foreman is boarding at Jas. Pearson's, on the property recently purchased by J. Grauer from G. Byrom.

Leo. Brandrith had the misfortune to break his leg, on Saturday last, by being caught in a hay press. This is the second case of the same nature this season.

ELECTRICAL POWER SUP-PLANTING STEAM.

Electrical construction and equipment is increasing steadily in all quarters of the globe. Steam railroads are being converted to electrical traction. Water powers are being harnessed and local manufacturing plants are converting their power into electricity for more convenient distribution to the various departments. There is hardly a steam railroad in the country that is not giving more or less attention to the question of electrical equipment—Get in on Big Four to-day.
